June McGrane works between France, Ireland and England in both English and French. Driven by a curiosity and a desire to explore, she travelled extensively before navigating different artistic disciplines and landscapes. June trained in physical theatre more than 25 years ago, bringing her focus to theatre, cinema, voice, music and contemporary performance.

From performing for Catherine Bay's Carte Blanche, Blanche Neige - Le Banquet at the Centre Georges Pompidou to playing Shakespeare at the Glastonbury Music Festival or on the set for the film 51 I Fly.

June lends her voice to Lancôme, Shiseido, Arte... and composes, sings and plays guitar with the band Underpressure.

She works as an actor and creator for past and current productions with Footsbarn Traveling Theatre, with Cie Mamaille for Les Grandes Espérances based on Great Expectations by Dickens and with Kaimera Productions on an immersive theatrical adventure, Nous Reviendrons Au Printemps, based on La Cerisaie de Tchekhov. She collaborates regularly with Sarah Trouche, most recently for the choreographic performance Vertical Strike - Je Ne Peux Pas Rester Silencieuse.
